HIGHGROVE PARTNERS ENHANCES FOCUS ON ATLANTA MARKET

Austell, Georgia (March 07, 2006) – HighGrove Partners announced that it will sell its Charlotte office to two members of their senior management team. The intent of the sale is to allow the company to solidify its focus on the Atlanta market and allow the Charlotte staff to have local ownership. HighGrove Partners currently has two branch offices in Atlanta, Georgia and one branch office in Charlotte, North Carolina. The Charlotte office will be sold to Jim Lawrence, Vice President and Director of Maintenance and Ken Orr, Charlotte Branch Manager.

“The opportunity to own this branch is a fantastic one for both Ken and me. We have a terrific group of talented people in Charlotte and we are excited to lead them. By having onsite ownership, we are absolutely confident that we will make great strides in our ability to serve our customers and prospects. This is a huge win-win for both us and HighGrove,” says Jim Lawrence.

“This move could not be more mutually beneficial. Our Charlotte office will have local ownership that will be able to provide the support and resources to enable the office to thrive. We could not have put the Charlotte office in better hands and Jim and Ken are thrilled about this opportunity. For HighGrove, we now can really focus our efforts and resources on being the best landscape service provider in Atlanta while growing and solidifying our position here. While our presence is strong in Atlanta, we strive to do much more. All of us involved are tremendously excited and energized about this change,” adds Jim McCutcheon, CEO and Partner of HighGrove Partners.

The sale is planned to close in late March or early April 2006.
