(Austell, Georgia), (March 29, 2007) — HighGrove Partners is pleased to announce that Gib Durden, Vice President/Sales Manager, has achieved the Certified Landscape Professional (CLP) designation from the Professional Landcare Network (PLANET). The CLP designation is a nationally recognized certification signifying that the recipient has demonstrated considerable competency, skill, proficiency and knowledge of the landscape profession.

Certified landscape individuals earn the right to use “CLP” as a professional title following their name. This designation represents a knowledge, technical skill, and commitment to quality of the highest level of professionalism. By successfully passing the rigorous certification process, Gib has exemplified these qualifications and proven the ability to meet a high standard of excellence demanded by PLANET’s certification committee. PLANET’s certification program is designed to raise the standards of the green industry and recognize the high achievement of those who demonstrate the high level of competence necessary to meet these standards. When looking for a landscape professional, consumers are reminded to look for those who are certified and have the CLP designation in their title.
