

Reynolds LLC contracted HighGrove Partners for this project after the owner of the Ritz –Carlton Lodge at Reynolds Plantation had received conceptual landscape plans from other companies with which they were unhappy . The original budget for the 30-acre project in Oconee, Ga. was 2 million dollars. But budget constraints related to the rising cost of construction required that the design be revised. HG was asked to prepare a conceptual master plan for the Ritz and the Oconee Club, and install the landscape for a total cost of 1.3 million dollars.

